COURSE DESCRIPTION

Each time we speak, we have the opportunity to choose our words. Speaking in a thoughtful way means that we are choosing words that will invite and empower individuals with social learning differences to feel connected, feel competent, and feel understood while learning and being guided outside their comfort zone. When we pause to think about what we say and how we say it, our learners in turn stop to think about what they say or do in response. In this course, participants will be shown a speaking style called declarative language that can be naturally used within social interactions to encourage connection and learning across areas of perspective taking, flexible thinking, problem solving and experience sharing.

LEARNER OBJECTIVES:

1. Participants will be able to identify the difference between declarative and imperative statements and construct declarative statements on their own.
2. Participants will be able to recognize that this strategy can be used effectively with a range of social learners and ages.
3. Participants will be able to explain the rationale behind declarative language use.
